MARJORIE'S BATTLESHIP

To the Editor of The Tribune
Dear Sir: I read in your paper every morning a lot about prepared ness. My grandpa and great-grandpa were soldiers. If I was a boy I would be a soldier, too. But I am not, so I want to do what I can to help. Mama gives me a dime every week for helping her. I am sending you this week's dime to help build a battleship for Uncle Sam.
I know a lot of other kids who would give their errand money if you would start a fund. I am thirteen years old and go to Public School 9, Brooklyn, Yours truly, MARJORIE STERRETT.
P, S—Please call the battleship
America.

Since this letter was printed dimes and dollars have flowed into The Tribune office unceasingly. Other papers across the country have reprinted the letter and the dollars have flowed in upon them.

Marjorie has asked The Tribune to take care of her fund until it grows hig enough to build a battleship or at least some kind of a ship worthy of the traditions of John Paul Jones. The Tribune cannot undertake to enter into correspondence about the fund, but it will print a daily list of contributors, and every one who sends a dime or a dollar or a million dollars to The Tribune for the fund will receive a button bearing the legend "U. S. S. America." That will be your receipt for a patriotic deed.

To-day's story will be found on
